The
Colonial Clergy and the Colonial Churches of New England

By

FREDERICK LEWIS WEIS

The Seal of the Society of the Descendants of the Colonial Clergy represents the Second Meeting House of the First Parish in Hingham, built in 1681. It is the oldest church building which has been in constant use in America. The Seal was designed for and presented to the Society by Phila Linville Staines.

FOR the first time a complete list of New England colonial churches and clergymen of all denominations is herein presented. Obviously there must be mistakes and omissions because of the very nature and extent of the subject matter. Thus, in some instances, the births or deaths of individuals vary with the sources: church records give one date, gravestones another, town records another, while diaries, journals and family histories give still others. To quote all is impossible because of limited space. The compiler has often been forced to choose the most likely source as probably the correct one. Likewise there are notable discrepancies in dates of foundations of churches and of ordinations and dismissions. But even more provoking still is the absence of any records at all, due to neglect, carelessness, hard usage or fire. Finally the compiler himself, being human, is prone to err, and though many of the dates have been checked a dozen times from as many original or secondary sources, it is inevitable that others will prove to be wrong even though backed by the most competent authorities.

Any correction or any additional information will be gratefully received by the compiler and duly noted for a future edition.

Our sincere thanks are due to the American Antiquarian Society, the Connecticut Historical Society, the Worcester Art Museum, Miss Louisa Dresser, Miss Marie Johnson, Mr. Clarence S. Brigham, Mrs. Samuel E. Staines, and Mr. Fred G. May, Jr. for permission to use the illustrations which add so much to the attractiveness of this book.
